Child/Young person's section:

(Below are some suggestions to get you started, there is no right or wrong way to complete this section)

Child/young person's aspirations including education, play/socialising, friendships, employment etc.

What's important to me in the future:

Aspirations and goals

What would you like to do when you have finished school/college?

- Training?
- Go to university/another course?
- Job?
- Apprenticeship?

Thinking about the future—what type of job are you interested in?

- Why would you like to do this job?
- What do you need to study to do this job? What grades do you need?

Being independent

- Would you like to live in your own place (house/flat) or share with friends when you are older?
- What can you already do independently? For example, travel, cook, personal care
- What do you need to work on so you can become more independent?

What is important to me now:

Education:

- What do you enjoy/find interesting about school/college/training?
- What are your favourite subjects? Why?
- What are your least favourite subjects? Why?
- What help and support do you think you need at school/ college?

Friendships:

- Is having a friend/s important to you?
- What do you enjoy doing with your friends?

Outside of school/college/training:

- What do you enjoy doing and find interesting outside of school/college/training?
- Are there any activities you would like to try outside of the school/college/training?

My strengths

- This could be anything inside or outside of school/college/training, including what other people (family, friends, staff, and tutors) have told you about you.

My history

- Is there anything you want to put here about your life at home and school/college/training/ that you feel is important for other people to know about you?

Other things you may want to think about

- Is there anything you think might stop you from reaching your aspirations or goals?
If yes, what?
- What do think you will need to help you to meet your aspirations or goals?
For example, type of support

The best way to communicate with me and get me involved in decision making for myself are:
